What is afcat ssb. Is afcat ssb difficult. Which afcat ssb centre is best. What happens in afcat ssb. How to clear afcat ssb.

The complete form of SSB is the Service Selection Board, it is one of the most difficult and long interviews, or we can say that it scans it thoroughly, Well, SSB is not just a test but a procedure, a 5-day procedure where you go through different ways to test your personality. Candidates who pass written exams such as CDS, NDA, TA, INET and AFCAT are called by the respective military juntas for the SSB interview. You can also submit to the SSB interview by getting pre-selected direct entries: TES, TGC, UES, SSC Tech, etc. Selected students must appear before a Service Selection Board for an Intelligence and Personality Test. SSB Interview Procedure The SSB interviewer looks for 15-character traits called "Officer-like qualities." The mechanism to verify what has been done by the following procedure: Day 0 (Reports): Candidates are usually received at the station by an officer (s) of the board and from there they are taken to the selection center. After the candidates are installed, a "Opening Speech" is held where a board official informs the candidates of their stay for the next 5 days. Document verification is carried out after that, where the original documents of the candidates are verified. At some boards (esp. Air Force) the day of reporting is considered as SSB day 1 and testing begins on the same day Verification: NSG Full Form Day 1 (Detection); The first day involves 3 tests: Image Perception and Discussion Test (PP&DT) Officer Intelligence Qualification Test (OIR Test): The first day involves 'Officer Intelligence Qualification Test' which consists of both verbal and non-verbal tests. The candidate receives two booklets with 40 questions each. The time allotted for each brochure is 15 to 17 minutes. Image Perception and Discussion Test (PP&DT): This test can be classified into: Image Perception: An image is displayed during the 30-second time period and candidates must write down its details, such as the sex, age and mood of the characters, the action performed by them. Candidates then create a story based on that image over a 4-minute time period. Group discussion: A group of 10-15 candidates is formed from the lot and each candidate needs to reach a common consensus. The results are declared after which the shortlisted candidates are kept for the subsequent round of testing. Day 2 (Psychology Test): On the second day of SSB, a Psychological Test is performed. The following tests are held on this day: Thematic Perception Test (TAT): Candidates are shown 12 images (including 1 blank) and then must write a story about each for 4 minutes. The time limit is imposed to measure the natural response of each candidate. Word Association Test (WAT): 60 words are displayed in front of candidates for 15 seconds each and candidates must write a sentence that comes to mind when they see the word. Reaction to Situation Test (SRT): A brochure is given to candidates with 60 real-life situations and candidates must write down their reactions to those situations. The total duration of this exercise is 30 minutes. Self-Description Test (SDT): Candidates should write a few paragraphs that cover their self-description for the given context. For example, write the opinion of your parents, teachers, friends, etc. and the qualities that candidates want to develop. The time allotted for this test is 15 minutes. These tests aim to measure a candidate's psychological suitability for the defence forces. Day 3 (Group Tests - I): Day 3 involves group tests. Here several outdoor tests are held where candidates must participate in groups. This day involves the following group tests: Group discussion takes place on two consecutive topics about some current events or social issues. The discussion is usually 20-30 minutes each. Group Planning Exercise (GPE): Here candidates are grouped into the group of 10 to 15 people and then given a story based on a model that has certain problems. Candidates should identify problems and provide a practical solution to them. Progressive Group Task (PGT): Candidates must overcome the 4 obstacles given collectively in a group for which they are given some relief material and a burden with some rules. Group Obstacle Course (GOR): Commonly known as a snake race, each group must compete against another group for 6 given obstacles. This it's like pgt, but it's carried out with a smaller group over a single obstacle. Day 4 (Group Tests - II): This day is again dedicated to group tests. The following tests are held on this day: Each candidate is presented with 4 topics from which you must choose one and talk about it over a period of 3 minutes. Individual Obstacles (IO): Each candidate must overcome 10 given obstacles in a 3-minute time period that are marked from 1 to 10 depending on the difficulty level. Each candidate made the and is given an obstacle similar to HGT that he needs to overcome with the help of his subordinates. The entire group meets and is required to complete the task assigned similarly to PGT in the stipulated time. Personal interview: Personal interviews are usually conducted during days 2, 3, and 4 after the respective daily tasks have been completed. Interviews are usually related to everyday experiences, work, education, family, hobbies, academic achievement, general awareness, etc. Day 5 (Conference): Day 5 is the last day on which the advisor begins with a closing speech, then the candidate conference begins. A board conference is held where all the officials who evaluated the candidates in the previous days are present. Each evaluator discusses with each other regarding the suitability of a candidate. Each candidate then appears individually before the board where their total assessment is narrated, and the board makes a recommendation accordingly. Candidates who are on the edge are given certain situations and then a collective decision is made. After the result is announced, shortlisted candidates are retained for further medical examinations, and once you passed the medical exams and made it to the merit list, then you become worthy of wearing the pride stars after the rigorous training process.
