The center for eating disorders is composed of some of the major national experts of disorders such as anorexia, bulimia and dolting of food ingestion (ArfId). Using the advanced cognitive behavioral therapy model (CBT-E) for treatment, our program is designed around an evaluation model and treatment-based treatment. In other words, there is no «problem» to «solve». On the contrary, we recognize that all individuals have strengths, and help them manage gaps and imperfections with compassion and patience. Families are a very popular component of our approach and are included throughout the treatment. You will receive information on the causes and risks of the loved person's food disorder, as well as strategies to create a support recovery environment. Â «Amitaâ» Redirect here.
